1 From the President of the Ayurvedic College Committee No 230/m 752-09-1 dt 19.7.10 Refers to the Subject No 1766 of 1909 & Requests to obtain & submit the Committee's opinion on the matter.

2 From the President No 558 dt 11.11.09 States that the majority of the Committee members are of opinion that arrangements should be made for teaching the Unani system of medicine also in the Ayurvedic College.

1) In view of the very short period of life that the College has lived — and it has not yet passed the tentative stage — it may be a matter for consideration whether it is not too premature to think of this innovation.

2) The College being "Ayurvedic", the Unani system of medical treatment may not properly properly appertain to it.

3) Instead of combining the two systems of treatment which in their very nature are quite different, & thus giving rise to complications which it may not be easy to think of now, it may be a matter for consideration whether a separate Unani College may not be started.

Submitted for orders please.

I a written opinion of the Several members is postponed.

I am afraid, this Unani system, like the Ayurvedic system, has not been investigated and encouraged like the Ayurvedic system.

I beg permission to invite reference to the portions marked in the Minutes dated the 29th Oct. 1910 and 14th Nov. 1910

Item No 176.

A Unani dispensary at Bangalore and a Unani branch to the Ayurvedic College.

(a) Mr. Gulam Ahmed Khan Saheb, Central Muhammadan Assn., Mysore, Bangalore

(b) Mr. Moulvi Derwish Peer, Anjuman-i-Hinayatul Islam, Mysore

Summary of discussion.

(a) As the Unani System of Medicine is very popular at Bangalore, both with the Mahomedans & the Hindus, a Unani dispensary may be opened at Bangalore on the same lines as in Mysore.

(b) A Unani branch may also be attached to the Ayurvedic College in Mysore to make provision for the teaching of the Unani system of treatment, which is as popular as the Ayurvedic System.
